Professional Experience

Mr. Eckert joined Imperial Plastics in September 2015 and is currently its President and CEO. Imperial is a leading engineered plastic component supplier to numerous Fortune 500 companies across the globe and is located in Lakeville, MN. Prior to starting with Imperial, he joined Tennant Company in December of 2002 and assumed several executive roles including Vice President, Americas in 2009 and Senior Vice President, Americas in 2013. Before joining Tennant in 2002, Mr. Eckert was with Storecast Merchandising Corporation as Senior Vice President of Performance for two years. From 1985-2000 he was employed by General Mills, Inc. in a number of sales and marketing leadership positions, his last position being Director of Business Planning and Development for the Consumer Foods Sales Division.

Andy is widely known as a transparent, intuitive, and analytical leader who values diverse skills, divergent opinions, and a willingness to challenge the status quo. He relishes the challenge to simplify complexity and translate boardroom strategy into actionable plans and tactics for teammates on the front line, and he fosters a spirited team by frequently recognizing success and establishing a competitive and fun workplace.
